Please comment on what you liked best and what you liked least about this course.

1) I like the course content. Everything is clearly explained with passion. I like the least is that it's all in long videos, which is a quite monotonous format. But it's already very good considering the Covid-19 situation.

2) While the course content was very interesting, I really felt that the lack of synchronous interaction hurt my learning ability in this course
3) What I liked best was that everything was very organized and all the work we had to complete and due dates for each one were very clear. What I liked least is that we did not have live class sessions.
4) I really enjoyed the interactive lab experiments, however, I had some trouble with the deadlines as it said all my assignments were late due to the time difference. I had submitted them on time but because of the time difference were seen as late.
5) + I most enjoyed the live lab sessions that were held to help apply our knowledge.
- The time difference made it harder to stick to deadlines and communicate with group members.
6) I really like the curriculum setting of this course; instead of having tough exams, we complete a problem set or group project weekly, which is really helpful for me to explore my interest in the course and collaborate with others without being stressful.

7) I felt the course material was always interesting and the lectures were engaging. What I liked least was the difficulties with coordinating group work online with different time zones and various other variables.

8) The content was very interesting but the quizzes were very difficult
9) Although the content was interesting, it was hard to hear and understand the lectures. The group projects were also difficult to complete since there were big time differences between my group mates. It was also difficult to navigate the course website.
10) The course was a fun challenge in general, but many students refused to participate in group projects, making group discussions a less favorable experience.
11) I liked the lab experiments that we had. It was also good that we had the slides for the class available for download instead of just a long video.

6) In the course, TA records some videos, illustrating related concepts in economics (e.g. experiment lecture before we conduct project 2), which is helpful for my learning.

7) Only had one TA.
8) He held a live meeting that was very helpful
9) N/A
10) Be more enthusiastic among students.
11) We had one TA and he was pretty nice. Led one of the lab meetings.
