Describe to us the most enjoyable, interactive, engaging components of this course.

- 1) I liked working on the group projects because they allowed me to interact with my classmates and see different perspectives on assignments and problems.
- 2) Of course the teamwork
- 3) I think the project part is very good
- 4) I enjoyed working with my group and making new friends/learning about people around the world.
- 5) Live zoom interactions, the lab, for example.
- 6) This was terrible. Canvas not clear about assignments and due dates. Group project was just me with 0 help from group mates. Asyncons was a disaster and much too difficult to focus/ downright boring. I hope future classes online are live or not worth.
- 7) The lab sessions (where online, real-time experiments were done) were very interesting.
- 8) The most enjoyable part of this camp was interacting with eager students and connecting with a diverse community. Furthermore, I enjoyed the first module because it included great explanations and a good pace.
- 9) It's fun to really dive deep to do the problem sets
- 10) The group discussion
- 11) As I was really interested in the field of Economics and Game Theory, even the hardest coursework was not dreadful, as I expected it to be in some cases, but was really enjoyable. The projects, in particular, were my favorite out of everything.
- 12) I enjoyed the labs with classmates over zoom. It was also fun to work on projects with people we don't know while finding ways to communicate with each other.
- 13) Group work
- 14) The most fun part was the games we played with our classmates.
- 15) I thought that the lectures were very thorough and interesting with examples that helped me understand the course. I also really enjoyed working with people around the world on the group projects.
- 16) The most enjoyable component of this course was the live zoom lab sessions. These zooms were very helpful to understand the concepts we were learning, but they also allowed for us to interact with peers in a competitively and friendly environment.

Please share anything else you'd like us to know about your course experience.

- 1) The course was a great experience overall!
- 2) It is fantastic
- 3) If it is possible, teacher's punctuation is kind of important for me.
- 4) N/A
- 5) ,
- 6) As stated earlier this is a rip off much too difficult to understand and should only be done in-person. Especially getting a grade on something. When you have to learn this online with no one getting graded is ridiculous and causes more issues than it help
- 7) n/a
- 8) The course objective of this course fulfilled my expectation. However, I believe the teacher could improve his explanation skills; he often made my groupmates and I confused because he lacked communication skills which lead to a lack of interest.
- 9) I had problems reaching out to my group members which is understandable under the circumstances, but it's just something.
- 10) It's overall great
- 11) I really enjoyed the course in general and am really happy that I took part in it!
- 12) None
- 13) Fix. Access problem

14) I felt like this class would be way more enjoyable if there was a more effective teacher who was familiar with the English language and also better at teaching game theory. I also think this experience would have been way better if it was in person.

15) I really enjoyed this course and it has definitely made me even more interested in behavioural economics!
